G-33 Details of Graduation Requirements for Graduate Students Graduate Institute of Library and Information Science 109 Academic Year
Item	Note
1. Duration of Study: 1. Minimum: 1 year 2. Maximum: 4 years (excluding a 2-year leave of absence).	Part-time students may extend the duration by 1 year.
2. Minimum Total Credits Required for Graduation: 33 credits (excluding Physical Education and National Defense Education courses), including: 1. Coursework: Minimum 9 compulsory credits, 18 elective credits. 2. Thesis: 6 credits	Graduate students must achieve a minimum of 70 points in both academic performance and conduct to pass. Students who fail to meet the conduct requirements will be dismissed. Academic performance constitutes 50% of the graduation grade. ※(Compulsory + Elective + Thesis = Minimum graduation credits).
3. Credit Transfer: Up to 12 credits	Follow the university's credit transfer policy. Applications must be submitted by the add/drop course deadline in the semester of admission.
4. Counting Undergraduate Courses Towards Graduation:	Graduate students may take relevant undergraduate courses with approval from the advisor or program supervisor. Up to 6 credits of undergraduate courses may count toward graduation, subject to the approval of the advisor and relevant program meetings.
5. Acceptance of Credits from Other Departments: Up to 6 credits	including intercollegiate credits
6. Required Courses and Credits: Total of 9 credits (excluding the Master's thesis).	Students who fail required courses must retake them. If required courses are not completed, they will not be eligible for graduation.
Course Title	Credits
1. Library and Information Science Research	3
2. Reference Resources and Services	3
3. Research Methods	3
4. Master's Thesis	6
7. Additional Undergraduate Foundation Courses (Not Counted Toward Graduation): Non-major students: 0 credits. 1. Library and Information Science Practice (Internship Course): 0	Non-library science background students may be required to take foundational courses decided by the program director and advisor. Passing these courses is a prerequisite for participating in degree examinations. Non-library science graduates must complete a practicum course, Library and Information Science Practice, during the first summer semester, unless they have over one year of relevant library experience, in which case they may apply for exemption.

8. Master's Degree Examination (Thesis Defense): 1. Students must secure a thesis advisor by the end of their first academic year. 2. Students must complete the Academic Ethics Education course before applying for the thesis defense. 3. Students who have completed the minimum duration of study, required courses, and credits, and have prepared a draft of their thesis may apply for the thesis defense at least 20 days before the scheduled date. A passing score is 70.	Thesis defense grades contribute 50% to the graduation grade. Graduate students may engage in self-learning through the Taiwan Academic Ethics Education Resource Center website and obtain a course completion certificate by passing the comprehensive test. For departments, institutes, or degree programs that have additional requirements for completing professional academic research ethics courses, implementation shall follow the respective regulations set by each unit. If a thesis is deemed unsatisfactory and the student's study period has not yet expired, they may apply for a retake in the following academic year or semester. If the retake is also deemed unsatisfactory, the student will be dismissed. For those who pass the retake, the grade will be uniformly recorded as 70 points.
9. Other Requirements: 1. Students must first complete at least four-fifths of the minimum total credits required for graduation (including mandatory credits). Only with the consent of their advisor can they submit a thesis proposal. 2. English Proficiency Graduation Standard: Students admitted in or after 2010 must pass an English proficiency test in addition to the thesis proposal oral defense. Standards are determined by the institute in accordance with university guidelines.	According to Article 2 of the "National Chung Hsing University Student English Proficiency Graduation Requirements Regulations," departments and institutes are authorized to set their own English proficiency graduation standards for graduate students. (Established at the 57th Academic Affairs Meeting on March 26, 2009)

※The required courses and graduation credit requirements are specified by the department or institute in accordance with the curriculum plan for each academic year. For more details, please refer to the regulations at the following website:
<http://www.oaa.nchu.edu.tw/rule01.htm>.

※Any changes to graduation requirements should be processed according to the simplified procedure outlined in the Graduation Requirements Change Suggestion Form. If there are no changes to courses or credits, there is no need to submit the form every academic year.

※The revision of this form is based on the records of the 62nd, 70th, and 71st Academic Affairs Meetings.
